10 TOP PRIORITIES FAMILIES VALUE MOST

AND HOW WE DELIVER

The qualities families value most in a school go beyond academics. Parents are looking for more than test scores—they want a school that nurtures character, encourages curiosity, provides individual attention, and prepares children for a lifetime of success. These ten priorities reflect what parents value most in their child's education and how Liberty Academy is committed to delivering on each one.

1. Safe, Nurturing Environment

A structured, caring community where virtue is taught, respect is expected, and every student is known and valued.

2. Strong Academics

A rigorous, content-rich curriculum in the liberal arts and sciences that builds knowledge, sharpens thinking, and prepares students for college and life.

3. Individual Attention

Smaller class sizes and devoted teachers that ensure students receive the guidance and support they need to flourish.

4. Character Development

Virtue is woven into daily life and instruction, forming students in integrity, responsibility, and strong moral character.

5. Outdoor Learning & Healthy Lifestyles

Hands-on science, nature study, and physical activity foster curiosity, stewardship, and lifelong healthy habits.

6. STEM

Strong foundations in mathematics and science develop problem-solvers and innovators; technology is used purposefully to enhance learning.

7. Social & Emotional Development

Students build confidence, communication skills, and meaningful relationships in a culture of respect and collaboration.

8. Preparation For Future Success

A cohesive K-12 education builds critical thinking, discipline, and leadership to prepare graduates for lives of human flourishing.

9. Arts & Creativity

Music, fine arts, poetry, and storytelling nurture imagination, cultural literacy, and a lifelong appreciation of beauty.

10. Strong Partnership w/Parents

We partner with families through clear communication, transparency, and a shared commitment to excellence.
